What has become of the old fellow who thought a question could be settled by passing a law?

We read of a fight between a carpenter and an ice man. A hammer and tongs affair, we imagine.

"Fish Subject of Investigation"—Headline. Someone is probably compiling a new sucker list.

Our pessimism has been somewhat shaken by the fact that Chicago finally repudiated "Big Bill" Thompson.

Mr. Rakob talks like a poor politician. He advises his party not to avoid or straddle controversial issues.

The White House, and its annual Easter egg-rolling, when Congress is in session the Capitol has its daily egg-rolling.

A government official says that gas is an ill in the cure of insanity. Then why do so many Senators act like that?

A Flemish scientist declares that tiring is less fatiguing to women than to men. Those scientists are simply finding out everything.

Americanism: Appropriating half a billion to dispose of surplus farm products and another half billion to irrigate more farm land.

It is distressing to note the cynicism of a sports writer who suggests that the Chattanooga team signed up that girl pitcher for the sake of publicity.

Tammany began its own housecleaning by kicking out a city fishhook who was found to be crooked. By a strange coincidence he happened to be a Republican.

THE DEAD SPEAKER

It was a shock to the nation to learn of the death of Nicholas Longworth, speaker of the House of Representatives, which occurred on April 9, after only a few days' illness from pneumonia. Tributes to his memory by persons in every walk of life have been profuse and sincere.

Mr. Longworth was born in Cincinnati on November 5, 1859, and was graduated from Harvard in 1881, later receiving his law degree from the Cincinnati Law school, and being admitted to the bar in 1884.

He served in both branches of the Ohio legislature, his first election to Congress in 1903, since which time he served continuously in the national House of Representatives except one term, 1913-1915, when he was temporarily succeeded by a Democrat. He became a Republican floor leader in 1920 and speaker in 1925.

His marriage to Allen Lee Roosevelt, daughter of the late President Roosevelt, took place in 1905. They had one daughter, Pauline, was born to the Longworths in 1906. One daughter, Pauline, was born to the Longworths in 1906.

During his long and useful public career Nicholas Longworth was one of the most beloved characters in our national life, admired and respected alike by political friend and foe. His passing is a distinct loss to his country, which he served so faithfully and well.

LIBERTY NEWS

We still have some sickness out here, but everything is moving on very nicely. We have not had that early Spring as we thought we would. You see, the wise can be mistaken, but we are still living in hopes of a good year. Oats are looking good and the fall oats are looking fine. I think we will be getting some of them this week.

Some of the farmers have a fine stand of corn but King Cotton is moving off rather dry. Much of the March planting will be planted over. Lots of rain and the cool weather caused the seed to rot. No one will get a good stand of beans. I think the cotton crop is about planted. Some boys are not thoughtful. I think this is the real time to plant cotton. We are glad the price of guano got so near right. It will help the farmers so much. Some have had to pay too much, but many of them got it near right. We will be glad when everything gets normal so we will know when and how to move.

This is going to be a hard year, but we will have some luck, and we hope to have some black-birds. We don't say any more for a lot of us to come down and stay with you this summer.

Summer was a fine day and we enjoyed it so much, as Brother Mayberry called for a short while in the morning. It is a treat to have a talk with a real old friend. Sunday evening I called on J. M. Stokes and enjoyed the stay very much. From there I went to see another old friend. He has been in pretty bad health for some time but seems to be getting better.

Brother T. M. Smith was there. It was a real treat to listen to him talk. He has a lot of wit and humor. The young folks met at Mr. Guy Parish's Sunday night and enjoyed a singing.

Mrs. H. L. Boland visited her daughter, Mrs. Sarah Morrow, over the weekend.

Mr. J. J. Kendrick and family visited their daughter who is in a hospital at Troy. They say she is getting along nicely.

Every one enjoyed the picnic at Liberty next Sunday at 2:30 p. m. with Sunday School. H. L. BOLAND

J. W. WILLIS BIRTHDAY SING

On Sunday, April 5, Mr. W. J. Willis celebrated his 54th anniversary sing at his home at Kinston. Little believe I ever saw him look so happy as he did Sunday surrounded by his children, grandchildren and friends.

THE DEAD SPEAKER

It was a shock to the nation to learn of the death of Nicholas Longworth, speaker of the House of Representatives, which occurred on April 9, after only a few days' illness from pneumonia. Tributes to his memory by persons in every walk of life have been profuse and sincere.

Mr. Longworth was born in Cincinnati on November 5, 1859, and was graduated from Harvard in 1881, later receiving his law degree from the Cincinnati Law school, and being admitted to the bar in 1884.

He served in both branches of the Ohio legislature, his first election to Congress in 1903, since which time he served continuously in the national House of Representatives except one term, 1913-1915, when he was temporarily succeeded by a Democrat. He became a Republican floor leader in 1920 and speaker in 1925.

His marriage to Allen Lee Roosevelt, daughter of the late President Roosevelt, took place in 1905. They had one daughter, Pauline, was born to the Longworths in 1906. One daughter, Pauline, was born to the Longworths in 1906.

During his long and useful public career Nicholas Longworth was one of the most beloved characters in our national life, admired and respected alike by political friend and foe. His passing is a distinct loss to his country, which he served so faithfully and well.

LIBERTY NEWS

We still have some sickness out here, but everything is moving on very nicely. We have not had that early Spring as we thought we would. You see, the wise can be mistaken, but we are still living in hopes of a good year. Oats are looking good and the fall oats are looking fine. I think we will be getting some of them this week.

Some of the farmers have a fine stand of corn but King Cotton is moving off rather dry. Much of the March planting will be planted over. Lots of rain and the cool weather caused the seed to rot. No one will get a good stand of beans. I think the cotton crop is about planted. Some boys are not thoughtful. I think this is the real time to plant cotton. We are glad the price of guano got so near right. It will help the farmers so much. Some have had to pay too much, but many of them got it near right. We will be glad when everything gets normal so we will know when and how to move.

This is going to be a hard year, but we will have some luck, and we hope to have some black-birds. We don't say any more for a lot of us to come down and stay with you this summer.

Summer was a fine day and we enjoyed it so much, as Brother Mayberry called for a short while in the morning. It is a treat to have a talk with a real old friend. Sunday evening I called on J. M. Stokes and enjoyed the stay very much. From there I went to see another old friend. He has been in pretty bad health for some time but seems to be getting better.

Brother T. M. Smith was there. It was a real treat to listen to him talk. He has a lot of wit and humor. The young folks met at Mr. Guy Parish's Sunday night and enjoyed a singing.

Mrs. H. L. Boland visited her daughter, Mrs. Sarah Morrow, over the weekend.

Mr. J. J. Kendrick and family visited their daughter who is in a hospital at Troy. They say she is getting along nicely.

J. W. WILLIS BIRTHDAY SING

On Sunday, April 5, Mr. W. J. Willis celebrated his 54th anniversary sing at his home at Kinston. Little believe I ever saw him look so happy as he did Sunday surrounded by his children, grandchildren and friends.

HAVE YOU MADE YOUR WILL?

In The Covington News, Andalusia, Alabama, issue of April 2, the following news item appeared:

"A notice of final settlement of the administration by H. J. Law upon the estate of D. J. Law, deceased, which appears elsewhere in this paper, presents an unusual condition. Upon the death of D. J. Law some years ago John I. Deens was appointed administrator. Mr. Deens died and his executors, Carl W. Hall and Rev. Willis, made a settlement for him, and Henry J. Law was appointed administrator de bonis non. Henry J. Law died without having made a final settlement of his administration and his executrix, Mrs. Jennie Law, will make a settlement of his administration upon the estate of D. J. Law. Then a second administrator de bonis non will have to be appointed on the estate of D. J. Law, deceased, to succeed H. J. Law, administrator, de bonis non, deceased."

Does This Mean Anything To You?

Do you realize the unnecessary expense and lawyer's fee that the heirs of the late D. J. Law had to pay just because he failed to make a will appointing some Bank with Trust powers as administrator of his estate?

The D. J. Law estate has already had two administrators and two court settlements, and now a third administrator will have to be appointed, whereas if some Bank with Trust powers had been appointed a large portion of this expense would have been avoided.

Some of the advantages in appointing a Bank with Trust powers to administer your estate are as follows:

First. EXPENSE OF ADMINISTRATION.

If you appoint a Bank as administrator no other appointment will have to be made as the Bank's charter to do business runs continuously, and the fees for winding up an estate are fixed by law and cannot be changed, and are the same for a Bank as an individual. A false impression has existed that a Bank can charge more for administering an estate than an individual.

Second. SAFETY.

Where an individual is appointed as administrator, that individual can die or misappropriate the funds of an estate, but this is not true of a Bank.

Our Officers Will Be Glad To Discuss This Matter With You In Person

High School Students To Have Public Debate

The first high school debate in Elba in several years will be held at the school auditorium Friday night of this week. There will be no admission charge and the public is cordially invited.

The debate will be between the two literary societies of the Elba High School on the subject, "Resolved, That Universal Disarmament is the Best Way to Insure World Peace."

Dr. W. C. Braswell of Elba was elected president; W. B. Pender of Greenwood, Fla., first vice-president; N. C. Wood of Abbeville, second vice-president; J. O. Deane of Dothan, secretary, and F. Snell of Dothan, treasurer. The officers and the following were elected directors: Buford Kiser of Goshen, Joe Peacock of Hartford, J. L. Gant of Gant, A. D. Jackson of Glendon, and C. M. Parrish of Greenville.

Articles of incorporation, by-laws, and a marketing agreement were prepared and adopted by the directors. The purpose of the association, as stated, is to "promote, foster, encourage, and encourage the business of marketing peanuts."

The growers were addressed by the directors, who urged them to take charge of their own destiny and to live in business in the future. For the past year and a half, the organization has been in existence, and it is hoped that it will be a success in the future.

The above will be read with interest in Elba, as Mr. and Mrs. Grant are well known here. Mrs. Grant was before her marriage Miss Louise Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Lee.

JARMAN SAYS ALBAMA DEFICIT MUCH LESS THAN CLAIMED

Kilgore, Texas, Has Not Heard Of Hard Times

That "old man depression" has not hit all parts of the country is evidenced by the following news story clipped from The Houston Chronicle. Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Dorsey returned from a trip thru Texas and they report that there are no signs of hard times in Kilgore in Southwest Texas.

Chief Examiner Smith, in report to governor, places state deficit at $5,139,530 and estimates it will reach $15,264,457 by September 30.

These figures are lower by several millions than those given in a financial statement about two weeks ago.

Mr. Smith asserts that defective accounting system is chiefly responsible for the "present uncertainty concerning the amount of the state debt," pointing out that many duplications were discovered and admitting that more may be found later.

Many financial students in the report estimate that the state deficit is much less than claimed.

Joint financial survey committee of legislature set to be out before the end of the session.

The survey showed 21 supply houses, seven welding shops, five boiler shops and four machine shops in the state.

Cafes had the list with 75 now to only one before the boom. There are now 23 grocery stores compared with two before the discovery of oil; 21 filling stations, 15 meat markets and 16 general merchandise stores. There are 15 barber shops, 14 lumber companies, 14 hotels, 13 real estate offices, nine furniture stores, eight garages, eight drug stores and five hardware stores.

Mr. Turner Futch of Marianna, Fla., was a guest of his brother-in-law, Mr. Luther Vaughan, in the city of the week.
